James Johnston of Newberg, Oregon, has requested that a portion of Fletcher Lane right-of-way be vacated. Mr. Johnston is the sole owner of the adjacent property. This right-of-way is the westerly end of Fletcher Lane that lies between Stackland Road and the east-west portion of Fletcher Lane. It is approximately 40 feet in width and 280 feet in length. (See attachment).

It is of my opinion that this portion of Fletcher Lane be vacated because of the following:

- . this section has never been constructed upon because of its steepness.
- . there are no long term plans to construct a roadway in this right-of-way.
- . the vacation would not effect the current accesses of property owners along Fletcher Lane.
- . access to the general public will not change from the current status
